B.A. in Greek

Through the B.A. in Greek, students analyze a complex civilization of people whose ideologies and practices still guide daily life in communities around the globe. They gain advanced expertise in the language, literature, and culture of ancient Greece, which enriches their perspective on issues that are still under debate in our cultural, intellectual, professional and civic lives. Through interactive language classes, specialized courses on topics ranging from epic, tragic, and comic poetry to religion and sports in the ancient Greek and Roman world, and affordable study abroad opportunities, they build skills in innovative analysis, creative and collaborative problem-solving, and outstanding, persuasive communication. Graduates pursue careers in a variety of fields such as education, law, journalism, business and entrepreneurship, and health sciences.

We also offer a Minor in Greek and an Honors Program.
